ACS and YOU: Building Careers, Chemistry and Trust in Science and Scientists

Dr. Judith C. Giordan
ACS President

Abstract: Building a career in science – and chemistry – today is more challenging, exciting and potentially rewarding than ever before. If you look beyond the science itself and to what the science can provide to society. Sure it can be challenging in an era when trust in science and scientists isn't always easy – or understood – but the rewards can be greater! Please join in the discussion and hear about the programs and initiatives of ACS Pres 2023 Judy Giordan and their links to the ACS Strategic Plan!
